Three Different Systems Will Be Used To Deliver Mail Next Week

By T. W. PUE

If you think you have troubles—give an ear to the problems of the postmasters on the NAR line from Edmonton to Lac la Biche. Don't blame your postmaster if he doesn't know where his next mail is coming from!

Starting next week, the rail service will be reduced from Monday-Wednesday-Friday service to only Tuesday and Friday. On those two days all classes of mail will be dispatched to post offices along the line.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays the first class mail only will go out on the Sunburst Motor Coach that travels as far as Lac la Biche.

On Sunday night there will be a supplementary motor vehicle delivery to carry all classes of mail.

Many patrons (and, doubtless, postmasters too) wonder why the Post Office Department doesn't end this hodge-podge of miscellaneous services and provide an overnight truck service daily, the same as is done on the Athabasca line.

By this means, a truck leaves Edmonton Postal Terminal early in the evening with all mail received there for post offices along the route during the day. It is all in individual bags — all classes of mail — for the individual post offices.

As the truck operator travels at night he picks up, at each post office, the outgoing bag of mail and leaves the incoming bag when none of the local post office staff is on duty. The driver carries a key to unlock the door of each post office on his route.

The next morning, about 7:00 a.m. he's back in Edmonton with the previous day's mail ready to be delivered in the city or dispatched to outside points.

There is one small weakness to the system. It takes two days to get a letter, say, from Abee to Newbrook. The letter that leaves Abee on Tuesday night arrives in Edmonton Wednesday morning, goes back out in the Newbrook bag Wednesday night and is delivered there on Thursday morning.

I feel that post office patrons should urge that the government give them the same service on the Lac la Biche line as residents now get on the Athabasca line. If anything is going to be done — it should be done now before this unsatisfactory three-way system wears in and then it will be harder to get improvement. Now is the time — when train service is being reduced — to strike out for a completley new, modern, daily train service.

Train Service Change April 28

A train service between Edmonton and Waterways will be changed April 28.

From that day until further notice, the following schedules, on mountain standard time, will be in effect:

Train No. 7 will leave Edmonton Tuesday and Friday at 7:45 a.m., will arrive in Lac la Biche at 1:10 p.m., leave Lac la Biche at 1:45 p.m. and arrive at Waterways at 9:50 p.m.

Train No. will leave Waterways Wednesday and Saturday at 7:45 a.m., arrive at Lac la Biche at 3:50 p.m., leave Lac la Biche at 4:30 p.m., arrive at Edmonton at 9:30 p.m.

Changing Of Guard Lac la Biche Event

The changing of the guard is regarded as high on the list of sights to see in old London, and for generations this has been a colorful event until it has become woven into the warp and woof of English tradition.

Now Lac La Biche, while it is getting some fine buildings, has nothing up to the present time that would compare favorably with Buckingham Palace or the Tower of London. As for a guard, although a night watchman has been mentioned, nothing to compare with what Londoners are used to seeing, has as yet been contemplated seriously.

However, whether it is commonly known or not, and even though some of the pomp and grandeur of the London pageant may have been lacking, Lac la Biche has had a changing of the guard.

Nick Urchenco, who has faithfully served for over a year as guard at the town police cells, has decided to take a well earned rest for a month or two. Carl Tratch is expected to take up the duties of guard.

The trial of five youths who were apprehended April 10 and held on breaking and entering charge, following a break-in and theft at Michael Hamar's store on April 8, was held here April 18. The youths had earlier elected to be tried by judge and jury but changed their minds and were tried before local magistrate G. Franchuk.

All five pleaded guilty and two were sentenced to three years at Prince Albert penitentiary. The other three were given terms of two years less one day, with the recommendation that they be placed in the Bowden institution.

A juvenile connected with the crime, was turned over to the superintendent of juvenile delinquency.

Canon Davis To Visit Athabasca Deanery

The Rev. Canon A. H. Davis, D.D., Field Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Anglican Church in Canada, will be paying a visit to the Athabasca Deanery later this week.

The dynamic mission leader recently returned from around the world tour of Anglican Missions. Earlier this month he has fulfilled speaking and mission engagements in Calgary, Edmonton and Peace River. On Thursday he will be in the Parish of All Saints, Athabasca, on Friday at St. Andrew's Church in Colinton, Saturday at St. Paul's in Boyle, and on Sunday he will visit St. Peter's Mission, Lac la Biche. He will be the special speaker at services in Wandering River, Lac la Biche, and Rich Lake on Low Sunday, April 28th.

He leaves Lac la Biche on Sunday night for Winnipeg, where he is due to address the Synod of the Diocese of Rupert's Land on Tuesday.

WI Sponsors Films, Talks On Work Of Canadian Cancer Society

Sponsored by the Women's Institute, prior to tag day, several films were shown in the Dr. Swift school, Lac la Biche, April 16 to more than 50 adults.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. John Oliver, R.N., from the Edmonton District Council of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Cancer Society, showed the films: "Cancer Crusade," a colorful presentation of the work of the society in Alberta; "Cancer of the Lung," the true story of the first operation for cancer of the lung in America, and "The Doctor Speaks His Mind," the story which could be that of "you" or "me," also showing some of the problems confronting the conscientious family doctor.

Mrs. Oliver gave an interesting and informative talk on the functions of the Cancer Society, along the lines of research, education, raising of funds and publicity. It was interesting to hear that the Canadian Cancer Society commenced in Edmonton and is now carrying on its activities across the continent.

"Education is furthered by the use of films, distribution of pamphlets and public meetings and lectures, sponsored by such organizations as the W.I., the I.O.D.E., Chambers of Commerce, Daughters of the Royal Purple, Lions Clubs and others," she said.

Mrs. Oliver told of the assistance the Cancer Society gives to patients in the form of free dressings, by the loan of cupboard supplies for the home, including surgical dressings, hospital beds, wheel chairs, etc. She stated that this service is greatly appreciated where a cancer patient is being cared for in the home, and supplies have been sent by truck to the Peace River district, and even to the Northwest Territories. Mrs. Oliver stated that requests come in every day from some point in the district, and assistance is also given to needy patients who come to the city and require treatments for cancer; transportation is paid, also board and room, and when there is no hope of recovery, help is given for the patient's remaining days.

Mrs. Oliver said that the Cobalt Bomb, used in Edmonton in the treatment of the disease, is the only one in Alberta, hence patients from many points in the province are sent to Edmonton for treatment.

Mrs. Stephenson who spoke on the research being carried on at the $250,000.00 J. McEachran Laboratory recently completed in Edmonton, said: "The doctors conducting research there are comparable with outstanding doctors anywhere on the continent. Twenty-seven projects are now under way to learn the cause and cure of this dread disease. Funds raised for the Cancer Society help to make all these services possible."

Pamphlets and leaflets concerning cancer and the Cancer Society were distributed to the audience.

A short business session was held before the films were shown. The choice of a delegate to the W.I. Convention to be held in Edmonton May 27-30, inclusive, was left to the executive. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $174.50. A short hospital report was given. In giving the library report, Mrs. McMillan stated that grants from the government and the town had been applied for, as well as more adequate space in the town hall. It was decided to give a donation of $10.00 to the Red Cross.

Lunch served by Mrs. Maccagno, Mrs. Kolstad, Mrs. Perasini, and Mrs. S. Hamar, brought the evening to a close.

Nothing is more ridiculous than a man, who happens to guess right once, and gets the idea that he is an expert.

Easter Services Well Attended

LAC LA BICHE — Attendance at Easter services in St. Peter's Mission broke almost all previous records. From Wandering River in the north to Rich Lake in the south, large numbers were on hand to make their Easter Communion. Attendance was so large at Rich Lake that some had to stand, despite the fact that two of the men brought planks for extra seating. It was the largest Easter attendance yet recorded in Rich Lake, being only surpassed by Christmas. At St. Andrew's Lac la Biche, it was the largest Sunday attendance in recent years. St. Andrew's choir, after leading the singing in Lac la Biche, journeyed south to Rich Lake to help with the services in the afternoon. They sang as an anthem "Around the Throne of God in Heaven," by Matthews.

Drama Class Presents Comedy

The Drama Class of the Lac la Biche High School presented the three act comedy, "Bashful Bertie," to a large and appreciative audience at the Memorial Hall, April 12.

Bertie Barrett doesn't dislike girls, it's just that he becomes tongue-tied in their presence, and just the thought of proposing to a girl fills him with fear and his teeth chatter from nervousness. Bertie is placed in a position where he has to pretend he is engaged to a girl (any girl will do), or else he will have to suffer dire consequences. Egged on by Steve, Bertie manages to blurt out a half-hearted proposal to pretty Pamela Petley. Bertie finally proposes to three girls in a row and he finds that proposing isn't the chore he thought it would be. The girls discover he was just practicing. Not until the final curtain does Bertie cover himself with glory by trapping Lefty Frank, a desperate gangster, and at the same time he wins the hand of the "one and only girl".

Directed by four students, Doris Cadieux, Mary Osterholm, Russell Giblak and Alex Gordon, under the supervision of Mrs. Julia Cunningham, dramatic teacher, the cast consists of: Leopold Langevin, Bashful Bertie; Alice Sorochan, Hetty Grimm; Gina Kaufman India Inglehart; Ida Langevin Bonny Crawford; John Maccagno, Willie Watt; Lily Zinco, Pamela Petley; Bruce Rispler, Steve Darnel; Colette Langevin, Colette LeBlanc; Laureen Hayduk, Rose Ramsey; Jane Burdek, Nellie Kenyon; Peter Palamaruk, Lefty Frank. DISTRICT AGRICULTURIST NOTES

By J. S. LORE

The results of germination tests carried out on grain samples from western Canada by the Line Elevators Seed Testing Laboratory indicates the germination is very low on frost damaged seed this year.

The results show that 864 samples of wheat tested, 277, or 32%, were affected by frost. The majority of the frosted samples germinated poorly, that is, less than 65%. The average germination for all frosted wheat samples was 71%, compared with an average germination of 88% for all non-frosted samples. A similar situation was found in barley. Germination in 34% of the barley samples tested was affected by frost. The average germination of the frosted samples was 65%. However, the percentage germination of many of these samples was below 50%.

Owing to frost damage the germination situation in oats is serious this year. In no less than 59% of the farmers' seed samples of oats tested so far this winter, germination was seriously affected by frost. The average germination for all frosted oat samples germinated less than 30%. The point to emphasize here is that all seed-grain stocks, particularly oats, from crops damaged by frost last fall should be tested for germination before they are used for planting in 1957.

With regard to flax. Our seed germination tests show that much of the flax seed harvested in western Canada in 1956 is suffering from frost damage. The best advice we can give to flax growers this year is: Be sure and have your seed tested for germination. (2) Exercise special care in cleaning your flax seed. (3) Treat all your flax seed this spring with one of the recommended mercury seed treatment chemicals.

If your grain is not fit for seed don't buy any unless the seller can produce a Seed Certificate showing the germination. Seed of high germination can be purchased through seed houses, seed cleaning plants and some local farmers who have had their seed tested.

Don't farm by chance, make sure the seed you seed has a high germination and has been treated with a recommended seed treatment.

THE Homemaker

By Doris Montalbetti

Your district agriculturist and home economist were among the privileged extension workers attending an "In Service Training Course" at the Banff School of Fine Arts last week. The course was presented by two world renowned men in the field, Dr. E. J. Nesuis, director of extension, Kentucky, and Dr. F. Ballard, director of extension, Oregon.

Tuly, their message "packed a wallop."

Farming today is no longer merely away of life—it's a business and anyone who wants to make a success of it must regard it as such. We, as extension people, essentially teachers, are here to help the farmer and his family help themselves. And this involves making a success of farming as a business and a way of life. Life, no matter which way you look at it, is decision making; we're constantly making choices. The question is are we making the best choice? With our goals in mind, considering our resources, human and material, are we making the decisions that will get us where we want to go? You as homemakers are part of the powerful teamwork that guides and directs your family's activities. Are you using all the information at your disposal to guide your family in the right direction? Or are you inclined to ignore this responsibility and live on a day-to-day basis?

Laggard Result Of Home Discipline, Teaching Methods, HSA Panel Finds

The regular meeting of the Redwater Home and School association was held in the Redwater elementary school on Monday evening of last week with the president, Mrs. Bruce Williams, presiding.

Mrs. Howard Devitt, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. No financial report was read due to the absence of the treasurer.

An objection was made to statements made at the previous meeting which discussed "Discipline," "Report Cards", "Promotion" and "Athletics." The suggestion that teachers who complained about their salaries to the pupils made the children lose respect for the teacher, was criticized as not being fair. The statement regarding "lack of adequate instructors in sports" which was copied verbatim from the findings of the panel was labelled as totally incorrect and the statement was made that all the instructors taking part in the school program were fully qualified. The matter of the hire of a student counsellor was also brought up, and it was explained that the counsellor asked for, was to be used before referring the children, who needed attention, to the Alberta Department of Health Psychiatric Guidance Clinic.

Mrs. Bruce Williams, the local president, was nominated as official delegate to the Alberta Home and School Associaiton convention to be held in Edmonton early in May. H. R. Middleton will act as alternate delegate.

A spring tea to raise funds for the Home and School Association Grade 12 scholarship will be held Friday, May 3. The tea will be convened by the social committee and parents of all the children who attend school, whether they are Home and School members or not, will be asked to donate toward the tea.

Following the business meeting the discussion on "The Laggard Pupil" was opened, with the school principal giving the the generally accepted definition of a laggard pupil as one who just lazes on the job, and while sitting back lazing habitually involves other, disruptingclass discipline and making things difficult for his or her class members and the teacher.

It was further revealed that the laggard was not generally found in below the average pupil, but usually came from the average or above average group.

"Laggard pupils begin to develop as early as the sixth grade, and the condition becomes more acute as adolescence develops," he said.

It was the opinion of some parents that children who were in the average or above groups should be given fuller programs to keep them from lagging into boredom and to keep their interest high at all times.

Several parents pointed out that they thought discipline was the guiding factor in school behavior, and that discipline, the art of living with others, should start at the cradle and gradually develop the child to use its own initiative with understanding parental guidance.

It was not reasonable to expect children who had no respect for their parents, or others, to come to school and act respectful to their teachers or their classmates. Children without proper parental guidance are generally those who develop into "laggards" in the schoolroom.

In summing up it was decided that the "Laggard Pupil" was 95% the result of incorrect home training and the 5% the result of improper teaching methods, especially in the above average mental group, who become bored with their school work because they were not accelerated through their grades quickly enough.

A study of the accelerated system of schooling at present in use in Ontario schools is now being made, and the Alberta Department of Education is seriously considering using this method in the schools here. In this system the pupil does four years work in three, passing from one form to the next as soon as the work is completed. In this way the brighter pupil doesn't have to wait for the others in his or her group to catch up, but goes on independently.

Following the discussion, lunch was served in the Home Economics Room by the Social Committee.

Fire Brigade Aids Farmer

WILLINGDON — April 10, at 11:00 a.m., the Fire Brigade received a telephone call for help from John Porozni, master farmer, four miles north east of the town.

Fire Chief Camille Etheir lost no time in rounding up his deputy, John Ziganash and volunters, Alex Moisy, L. Novalkowsky, Nick Fedoreak and Anthon Sphur. Arriving there, it was found that the modern hog-house was burning Meanwhile flames were seen from the roof and for half hour it was feared the fire would spread to other buildings the pride of a farmer, who so diligently had built his farmstead and yard as a model Fully 15,000 gallons of water was pumped from the slough and poured into the flames by the firefighters. The lower part of the building was saved, but the roof is a total loss.

Mrs. John Prozni, with Mrs. Willis assisting prepared a hot lunch for the men, but the ladies were dissapointed for the brigade had to return to its base.

Counsel Claims Steer Not Dragged

A veterinarian's report showed no bruises on a steer which fell in Edmonton from the truck of Peter Pikula of Abee, Pikula's counsel, John Welykocky, has stated.

The steer fell, Welykocky said, when the ring of holding its tether broke. The veterinarian's report, he said, showed no bruises on the animal which would have been present had dragging occurred.

Nor, Welkocky said, had the animal caught its hoofs in the truck.

Pikula has been summoned to court May 6 in connection with the accident.

Gravel Causes Freak Accident

HAIRY HILL—Nick Labit, farmer east of here, escaped serious injury recently when his car was involved in an accident of a freakish nature.

As Labit was driving home the evening of April 13 on Highway 45, about one mile north and two miles east of here, his car apparently became caught in loose gravel.

It swerved to one ditch and back to the other. There it hit a high bank and was flung backward. It landed upside down and facing the direction opposite Labit's destination.

Labit succeeded in getting out of the car despite its flattened form. He then returned to Hairy Hill to notify police.

Going back to his car, Labit found it ablaze, with flames that could be seen for miles around. The '53 model car was soon completely demolished. Labit, its sole occupant, had escaped without a scratch.

Andrew Minister Reveals Contents Letter To Russia

Charging that soviet officials "may perhaps be found fighters actually against God," a strongly worded letter of protest from officials of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, legal governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been sent to Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin of U.S S,R.

Nicholas Wakaruk, presiding minister of the Andrew congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, in announcing the contents of the letter, cited the wholesale arrests and mass movements of Jehovah's Witnesses to slave labor camps in Siberia.

"For many years now," Mr. Wakaruk quoted the letter as saying, "Jehovah's Witnesses within the Soviet Union have endured great difficulties and heavy persecution. They have constituted committees and delegations from among their own ministers for the purpose of registering their religious organization according to the statutes in force, but on each occasion they have been rebuffed and instead of being allowed to register their Christian organization they have had ministers in the delegation arrested."

"We have acted only in good faith," Mr. Wakaruk said. "Following the petition's adoption at each assembly, copies were sent by registered mail direct to Moscow and a copy for the Russian embassy in each country was delivered in person. Most of the ambassadors would not see us," Mr. Wakaruk reported, "but we were able to talk to some Soviet diplomatic officials. To date, the Soviet government has completely ignored our petitions.

Asserting their purpose was to inform the world of the bitter Christian persecution that still rages behind the Iron Curtain, Mr. Wakaruk revealed, "A full report is being published in the April 15 issue of The Watchtower, official magazine of Jehovah's Witnesses, This issue will have a stepped-up world circulation of 10,000,000 copies in 45 languages, which is three times normal circulation. Plans are being made by the Andrew congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to call at every home in Andrew and district with this significant report."

Northwestern Utilities Reports Year Of Record Expansion

EDMONTON—A net income of $2,085,000 for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1956, up $164,000 over the previous year, is reported by Northwestern Utilities, Limited in its annual report mailed today to shareholders.

D. K. Yorath, president, reports that revenue from sale of gas was $10,642,000, with miscellaneous income bringing the year's receipts to $10,744,000. Expenses, including a provision of $955,000 for income tax, totalled $8,659,000.

The year was one of record expansion. Twelve new communities were added to the company's system. Gross capital additions in 1956 were $5,442,000. In the past 10 years the company has spent $38,538,000 in capital additions, and today has tangible assets of nearly $53,000,000.

Commenting on the company's rate structure, the report states: 'Other than the introduction of suitable rates for the new towns and communities added to our system, existing rates have remained stable for a number of years. The company's rates for natural gas are among the lowest on the North American continent.

"It appears, however, that the increasing costs of capital additions and of rendering services to customers, coupled with the higher costs of financing, plus the need of connecting new sources of gas supply, may affect the company's earnings adversely. In such an event the company may have no alternative but to seek an increase in the rates it charges its customers."

The company, which has 450 permanent employees, now supplies natural gas to 43 communities, in addition to the city of Edmonton. It has 1,832 miles of pipelines. It supplies gas to communities as far south as Red Deer, and as far north as Legal, and on the east to consumers in the Lloydminster area. West of Edmonton, it supplies gas to the communities of Edson, Hinton, Stony Plain and Spruce Grove.

The experts have already forgotton the latest election; they are now busy telling us what we can expect in 1958.

SRO Audience Attends Variety

GRASSLAND — Standing room only and not much of that was available for the Students' Union variety show.

Lucien Duigou was mc for the songs, dances, skits and fashion show that added up to 11 program numbers.

In the opening number, Robert MacKenzie played piano arrangements of "Autumn Leaves" and a popular Ukrainian polka. A humorous skit on the pursuit of women by men followed. Then came a guitar duet and a few songs each by Billy Rosa and Mike "Rock and Roll" Garbowski. Garbowski's songs were those usually linked with Elvis Presley. Rosa chose "Butterfly."

The comic skit, "Last Day of School", was complete with slingshots and pigtails. An unidentified "fiddler from down south" came on next, playing a stringless instrument. Then the audience saw a rock and roll dance, which one viewer described as "real Presley type, but a little on the Calypso side."

In the fashion show, ladies' styles from Paris, New York and Montreal, were modelled by boys. Then Rose Davidiuk sang a popular number. Next, with "Itchin' To Get Hitched", a rustic Ozark scene came into view. The characters included a snuff chewing daughter, an "iron" toting pappy and a lady preacher, with animal accessories of a spotted hound and a plucked chicken.

Two numbers by the high school choir, with V. A. MacNeil accompanying on the piano, concluded the show.

Cast in the show were Walter Yakimchuk, Robert MacKenzie, Lucien Duigou, Natalie Medwed, Ann Alexiuk, Olga Holdis Willy Sadownik, George Fisher, Alex Kononchuk, Peter Bluda, Albina Rywak, Vera Sawchyn, Mary Onischuk, Emil Zachkewich, Eddy Dytiuk, Henry Motoga, Billy Rosa, Connie MacKenzie, Nadie Alexiuk, Ann Hula, Nadie Greschuk, Suzie Bereziuk, Rose Davidiuk, Jerry Derko, Fred Shyian, Mike Alexiuk, Walter Yakowchuk, Albert Pysyk, Alma Semeniuk, Harry Johnson and Mike Garbowski.
